A Significant Verdict.

In the Maclean-Scripps case the jury awarded the plaintiff $20,000 damages. Notwithstanding the large amount allowed, the action of the jury will be sustained by the popular judgment. The verdict signifies the existence of a deep-seated and ever-strengthening feeling of opposition, among the people, to the publication of foul charges against personal character simply for the sake of "sensational and increase of circulation." Newspapers have not the right to conflict with, and destroy the rights of others. As an educational power, the press should be dignified, chaste, the conservator of private character and public good. This is in harmony with the highest degree of courage and faithfulness. He who panders to a low, morbid taste, ministers to a prurient curiosity, strengthens the worst elements of society, by making his paper a sewer, through which all manner of filth is conveyed, certainly does not contribute to the highest style of journalism, and in the end will meet with disapproval. All right minded people have a sense of justice and right, that will not permit them to endorse reckless abuse, and unwarranted statements destructive of reputation and character as evidences of enterprise, wisdom, and success. The News has been too newswy but will be able to take care of itself, while Dr. Maclean has been provided for by the jury, and the public feel that a thoughtful or malicious libel for fun, notoriety or profit should be made expensive to the world over.

Township Library.

The town library has been moved from the store of A. P. Newton, where it had been kept since it was started, to the Cheboygan News Co.'s store, on Third street, LeGault's building. The library is getting badly run down from use and many of the books are badly worn, so much so as to be entirely useless for circulation. Some effort should be made to replenish the library with new volumes of an interesting and instructive character.

The present library was selected by the Hon. Geo. W. Bell, in the spring of 1876 at which time he invested, by order of the town board, $223. Since that time no additions have been made to the library, and it is no wonder that it is the worse for wear and tear. There should be quite a fund on hand for library purposes and we think it should be invested in books. The fines and penalties collected, which by law are to be used for township library purposes, must amount to a considerable sum, in the aggregate, for the past seven years. The matter should be looked after by the official, or officials, whose duty it is, and the library improved by a proper investment of the funds on hand.

Cheboygan W. C. T. Union.

At the annual meeting of the Cheboygan W. C. T. Union, held last Thursday the following officers were elected for the ensuing year.

President—Mrs. Merritt Chandler.
Vice Presidents—Mrs. Dr. Hartley,
Mrs. E. A. Vorce, and Mrs. H. A. Conrad.
Secretary—Mrs. W. M. Campbell.
Treasurer—Miss Jane Hunter.
Cor. Secretary—Mrs. E. A. Vorce.

The regular meetings of the Union will be held in the chapel of the Methodist church every Thursday afternoon, from 3 to 4 o'clock, until further notice.

The Broom Brigade.

The "Aftermath" society of the Congregational church, will give an entertainment at the Town Hall next Wednesday evening. The "Broom Brigade" will take a prominent part and be an attractive feature. The entertainment will consist of the Broom Brigade drill, and the presentation of a very amusing semi-musical piece. The drill will be interspersed with a number of beautiful tableaux. The Brigade rehearsed in full uniform last evening, and presented a very pleasing appearance, and went through the various movements in good style, which showed that they were apt pupils. Lieut. Sutherland has been drill master, and has reason to be proud of his fair brigade.

Having enjoyed attending a rehearsal of the musical part of the programme, we can assure all that this part of the entertainment will be worth the price of admission itself and none should miss it. Don't fail to attend and see the tragic end of "Jacobi," and the rival fair ones.

Death of Dr. Cocker.

Detroit Free Press.

The death of Dr. Cocker, professor of mental and moral philosophy in the Michigan university, ends a life whose story reads like a romance. Born in Yorkshire, England, 62 years ago, he was educated for business in a German mercantile house, began the manufacture of woollens, after years of which he was obliged, on account of his health, to emigrate to Australia. The 16 weeks' voyage did much for its restoration. He carried on for years a very large and successful business at Melbourne, when in 1856 he was ruined by a commercial panic. He bought a small vessel and went on a trading voyage to New Zealand, Feejee and Tahiti. While on an excursion to Feejee to a heathen temple, he and his companions fell into the hands of the cannibals. Their fate was determined on. Their death song was sung, when by a courageous and superhuman effort they succeeded in breaking through the weakest point of the line and escaping to their boat, pursued by the yelling savages. On his way back to Australia, he narrowly escaped shipwreck. After further engagements as a clerk he went on another voyage to the Friendly Islands, when his vessel struck on a reef and went down with all on board. Fortunately for him he had stopped at one of the Feejee islands, and so escaped.

Stripped of all his possessions, having sold even his library and keepsakes, he felt called upon in spite of broken health to preach. When his engagement as a clerk came to an end, he started for Peru, whence by Aspinwall and New Orleans he reached Chicago without funds. Hearing that an old friend to whom he had some kindness in Melbourne, was living at Adrian, Michigan, he reached there with a wife, three helpless children, and one in his arms that had expired on the journey. Here he found friends, was put in charge of a small church, and in 1869 was appointed to the Central Methodist church of Detroit. He soon after resigned to take the chair of mental and moral philosophy at the university. In spite of physical disabilities and even intense suffering, he discharged the duties of his office with great success, and in his class work has been popular with his pupils as well as diligent and skillful in his preparations for his classes. His loss will be a positive one to the university and a personal bereavement both to the people of Ann Arbor and many friends through the state. He has published several philosophical works.

Allis Correspondence.

APRIL 7th, 1883.

Our snow is fast disappearing. Chandler's crew will soon begin to mow down the stately forest.

Miss Luella Lathrop made many hearts happy by returning to her school. She is an excellent teacher.

Our election on Monday last was a very quiet affair, making T. E. Shaw supervisor, R. J. Taylor clerk, J. Saunders treasurer, Geo. Kied highway commissioner and justice of the peace. The balance of the ticket is unimportant.

Miss Libbie Sandison is still quite poorly.

We have another new neighbor, he boards with J. M. Roberts and weighs seven and one half pounds. The girls say he is a beauty.

Jarvis Smith's house was burned to the ground on Saturday last. Mrs. Smith and children were alone, but amidst falling timbers and nearly suffocated with smoke, Mrs. S. succeeded in saving about half of their effects. The entire inhabitants of Allis of the male persuasion, will turn out on Tuesday next to construct a new tenement for them.

A new dock is to be built soon at the head of Black Lake, near the county line, as a steamer is to be launched into the lake early in the spring.

We are glad that Rev. R. M. Thompson is to return to Cheboygan soon with his family. He has many warm friends in this neighborhood.

We still hear rumors of the M. C. R. R. via Alpena, making a curve at that point in this direction, which is doubtless owing to the fact that we have 40,000,000 feet of hard maple in this town to give away.

School Director T. E. Shaw wants to contract with that young lady who is a good teacher and can also give lessons on the organ. Send her name.

The Continentals were greeted by a full house Monday night, and gave good satisfaction.

Another brick yard is to be started this season. Some Germans bought forty acres of Arthur Watson, about two miles from the village on the Mackinaw road, and will commence manufacturing as soon as the weather will permit. We understand they are old hands at the business and know how it is done.

A large number of men from the woods have been in the village this week, some of whom have returned to assist in bringing down the drives. Notwithstanding the streets have been full, we are glad to say that but few of the men have been in that condition, and save from the additional stir upon the streets our town has been as quiet and orderly as during the winter, which shows conclusively that boys, when in from the woods know how to conduct themselves properly.

MARINE.

—The Messenger arrived at Chicago Tuesday.

—The music of the tug whistle is now heard daily.

—One of J. B. McArthur's lighters is ready to launch and the other is nearly completed.

—The Chicago Inter-Ocean predicts that the straits will be open by next Friday, 20th.

—At Detroit all is activity along the docks and painters and ship carpenters are having a harvest.

—Charles Hart has his schooner C. Hart fixed up in good shape. He has changed her color and now she is black.

—The steamer City of Cheboygan is fitted out and is ready to migrate to Black Lake as soon as the ice will permit.

—The City of Cleveland is advertised to leave Detroit next Monday for Alpena, and the Pearl and Flora are announced for the following day.

—Capt. Tolson commenced fitting out his fishing tug Messenger, Thursday morning. He expects Capt. Matherson and crew to arrive to-day.

—Capt. James W. Brown is getting the Van Raalte in good shape. She is being repainted throughout. Her hull will be black and her upper works white.

—The Chicago Inter-Ocean says the latest opening of navigation during the last 15 years was in 1875, when the season did not commence until May 12.

—Carkin, Stickney & Cram's tug Nat Stickney has been fitted out and is ready for business. Their tug W. S. Carkin is being fitted out this week.

—The steamer City of Detroit is making regular trips between Detroit and Cleveland. She arrived at Detroit last Saturday evening on her first trip from Cleveland.

—Fred Seymour is agent, at Chicago, for the Northern Michigan line, and announces that either the Lawrence or Champlain would leave Chicago for Cheboygan about the 20th, ice permitting.

—John Mitchell and crew are fitting out one of Carkin, Stickney & Cram's dredges, to be ready to go to work on the harbor as soon as the tug crew and the inspector in charge arrives.

—The Pearl looks gay this spring in her new dress of paint. Her owners are much obliged to our cotemporary for those feathering paddles. They knew nothing about the change until our neighbors announced it.

—They were getting ready this morning to launch the tug Eva English. She comes out this spring as good as new, with a new wheel, larger shaft, and other improvements. Next week she will go up the river, to tow logs.

—The propeller Messenger was measured in Chicago Wednesday, under the act of Aug. 5, 1882, for exemptions. Her old measurement (gross) was 444.57. The exemption under the new law is 102.95 making her tonnage now (net) 341.62.

—The tug J. W. Bennett has been chartered for the season to tow coal barges between Black River, Ohio, and Sarnia, Ont. Capt. Snow will sail her, with James N. Riley as mate and Will Garey as engineer. They commenced fitting her out Wednesday.

—A large force of painters were at work at Detroit, on the Flora the first of the week rushing matters to get her ready to leave that port for Cheboygan by next Tuesday if there should be any prospect of her getting through. Important improvements have been made on her.

—The Chicago Inter-Ocean says the grain fleet at that port, ready to leave, numbers nearly sixty craft, with 2,321,000 bushels on board, destined for Sarnia, Buffalo, Kingston and Montreal, and there will be numerous additional charters within a few days. Chicago has a stock of eighteen and a half million bushels of grain at present, the largest she ever had at any one time, and it must go forward.

—The Algonah made an attempt Tuesday afternoon to reach Mackinac City from St. Ignace. Capt. Ames says she went right along until she struck an ice ridge, where she ran out about two feet and there she tarried until dug out, Wednesday. She reached here that evening, and returned the same night. She was in good season Thursday morning and has been making good time since, considering the length of her run.

—The Atlantic on her first trip up will start from Toledo, Ohio, instead of Cleveland. It is said there is a vast amount of freight waiting at that port for shipment up the lakes, and as the Flora will have all the freight at Detroit she can carry, the Atlantic goes to Toledo to relieve the pressure. This favorite propeller will be in better shape than ever, this season. Capt. Nicholson will be in command and Chas. McIntosh, her gentlemanly clerk of last season, will be on deck again this season.

Official Canvass.

The official canvass of this county on state ticket took place last Tuesday and the following result declared:
